VI. Business of GuestsA. Bill Lewis

Mr. Lewis thanked Council and staff for the progress on the demolition of the condemned property near his house. He said it has lead him to wonder why it took so long for anything to happen at that property and that he started thinking about other properties in the neighborhood. He added that one in particular has many vehicles, engine blocks, trash, and oil in the yard. It made him question how many cars we're allowed to have in front of our houses, and why nothing has been done about it. He said he'd like to see some of these other homes in the community more closely looked after. He said a neighbor of his received a notice to clean up their yard after they had torn down a chicken coop and didn't quite get to clearing the materials in a timely manner, however, nothing seems to have been done with the house with multiple vehicles in the yard. He said he thinks someone from the City should really take a look into it. Mrs. Hilbert encouraged Mr. Lewis to continue bringing any concerns about possible violations to Council and the City's Code Compliance Officer's attention.

B. Della Dawson

Mrs. Dawson expressed her concerns about standing water in the basement of the condemned property. Finance Director Carr spoke about it becoming ground water. He said the City had reached out to the Ohio EPA, Franklin County Health Department, and the demolition company. There were no concerns raised by any entity. Mrs. Dawson further spoke about the emptying of the rat traps that had been placed at neighboring homes, her thoughts on communication from the City about the condemned property, and reiterated her concern for soil contamination from the fumigation. Mr. Carr replied that the water would dissipate into the soil and assured her that it is not contaminated, therefore would not contaminate the soil. He added that once the area is cleared there will be clean fill put on top of it, and it will be compacted. She inquired about the trees and shrubs, to which Mr. Carr said they would also be cleared and walked her through the process and timeline of clearing the lot. Mrs. Dawson further expressed her concerns over rats that have migrated from the property after its demolition and fumigation. Mr. Carr said that he would be at the property first thing in the morning to oversee the rest of the demolition and that it has already been conveyed to the contractor to contact the City if they see more rats coming out, so the City can call the pest control company to come out immediately. Council addressed Mrs. Dawson's further concerns about communication, how to place a complaint, pest control, and the types of chemicals used in the fumigation. Mr. Carr said he would follow up with the pest control company to make sure rat traps are being checked and emptied. Mayor Westcamp told Mrs. Dawson that we share her concerns and asked Mr. Carr to also reach out to the EPA to see if a representative can come out to the property and speak to the neighbors.
